Dear Big Nasty Concessionaire (non-food) Vendors,

It's time to start getting revved up for the wildest show around, The Big Nasty Hillclimb. If you are receiving this letter, either you did a good job with us last year, or you are applying to get in.

The Big Nasty is going into its eighth year and should pull over 12,000 people in 2010. We had 10,000-plus spectators in 2009, even with a horrible economy, and the perfect, 80F temperatures really fired people up to attend this year. Our date for 2010 is September 17-19 and we should be greeted again with perfect, 70-80F weather. This also puts us out and away from all of the numerous county and state fairs that go on in July and August. We believe that The Big Nasty will continue to grow steadily and should be pulling 25,000-plus in another couple of years.

If you wish to attend, it is critical and required that you complete the attached form and send it back to us by June 15, 2009. You will need to provide your own electricity once again.

We will continue to improve the event and make it even more exciting. We are exploring adding 800 horsepower sprint boats in the creek, and again running the pumpkin shooting, helicopter rides, and lighted, night hillclimbing.

If you have not attended the Big Nasty before, we cannot guarantee you a spot, but we will certainly try to get you in. The next letter that you get from us will confirm if you are in (and if you were with us last year, you will get in if you wish).

This should be the strongest year ever for all of us at the Big Nasty,

Ron Dillon
